

The long and short of it is that competition improves service. Let satellite radio explore its options.